REMARKS.—A. The following rights to water are admitted within the reserve :—

I. On behalf of the cultivator or cultivators for the time being of Padaipare darkhast (survey No. 59/7 of Panaje), the right to maintain a tank situated inside the block above Thumbadka and is formed by a dam fifteen feet long, four feet wide and four feet high; and to take the water of the said tank for the irrigation of the first crop of the said cultivation by means of a channel three feet wide, and two feet deep which runs north-west for one hundred and sixty yards and leaves the block one hundred and seventy-eight yards east-south-east of cairn No. 2, access to the tank and channel will be by way of the channel, and materials for repairs to tank and channel must be taken from their respective beds. This easement will be in force from June to December each year. Permission is also accorded to maintain another channel fifty yards long, three feet wide and three feet deep to convey a supplemental supply of spring water into the abovesaid channel for the irrigation of the said cultivation, Padaipare darkhast.

II. On behalf of the cultivator or cultivators for the time being of survey No. 54 of Panaje the right to maintain a tank ten yards square formed by a bund ten yards long four and a half feet wide and three feet high and to take the water collected in the said tank for the irrigation of the said survey number by means of a channel three feet wide and one and a half feet deep which runs eastwards for one hundred yards and then after crossing a small jungle stream channel will be by way of the bed of the channel and materials required for the repairs should be taken from their respective beds. The easement will be in force from June to end of next April each year.

III. On behalf of the cultivator or cultivators for the time being of survey No. 32/14, the right to maintain a dam 10 feet X 4 feet X 4 feet across a jungle stream and to take the water collected by the dam for the irrigation of a said survey number by means of a channel 3 feet wide, 3 feet deep which runs south-east for one hundred and fifty yards and leaves the block eighty yards west of cairn No. 38. Access to the dam and channel will be by way of the channel and materials for the repairs should be taken from the bed of the jungle stream and channel. The easement will be in force from June to end of November each year.

IV. On behalf of the cultivator or cultivators for the time being of survey Nos. 30 and 31 of Panaje, the right to maintain a tank fifteen yards long, five yards broad and five feet deep situated one hundred and fifty-four yards east of cairn No. 42 for the irrigation of the said survey numbers. The water leaves the tank by a natural channel, but X one foot. Lower down again, the water returns to the natural channel about twenty-five yards north of cairn No. 42. Access to the tank and channel will be by way of the bed of the natural channel and all materials required for repairs must be taken from the bed of the tank and channel. The easement will be in force from June to end of next April each year.

V. On behalf of the cultivator or cultivators, for the time being of survey No. 30 of Panaje, the right to maintain a tank with subsidiary works near cairn No. 43 for the irrigation of survey No. 30. The tank is thirty-six yards east of cairn No. 43 and is twenty yards long, by five yards broad and six feet deep. The dam of the tank is fifteen feet long X four feet broad and six feet high. It is protected by a flood drain eighty-two yards long and four and two feet high at a point forty yards above the tank.

The irrigation channel commences twelve yards below the tank where there is a dam six feet long, one foot broad and one foot high; and the channel is twenty-four yards long, one yard wide and one foot deep and leaves the block six yards north of cairn No. 43. The materials for repairs should be taken from the bed of the tank and channel and access to the channel, tank and flood drain will be by way of the bed of the channel, jungle stream and drain. The easement will be in force from June to end of next April each year.

VI. On behalf of the cultivator or cultivators for the time being of survey No. 55 of Badagannur, the right to put up a dam (5 yards X one yard X one yard) across a jungle stream which crosses the boundary line midway between cairns Nos. 77 and 77 A, at a point fifty yards higher up the bed of the said stream and to take the water between the dam for the irrigation of the said survey number by means of a channel running north-east. Materials required for the dam should be obtained from the bed of the stream and those for the channel should be obtained from its own bed. Access to the dam and channel should be by the bed of the latter. The easement will be in force from July to end of October each year.

VII. On behalf of the cultivator or cultivators for the time being of Kodimajlu survey No. 58 of Badagannur, the right to clear off silt and maintain a swamp eighty yards long X twenty five yards broad called Jarkinamule, situated about fifty yards to the west of the line from cairn Nos. 79 to 80 and a stream which runs down south-east from the west of the reserve line and about half a furlong north of cairn No. 80 and to divert its water for the irrigation of the said survey number by means of a channel one foot X two feet running south-east. Materials for the dam should be obtained from the bed of the jungle stream and those for the repair of the channel should be obtained from its own bed. Access to the dam and channel should be by the bed of the latter and access to the swamp should be by the bed of the channel up to the site of the dam, and by the bed of the stream higher up. The easement will be in force from July to end of October each year.

VIII. On behalf of the cultivator or cultivators for the time being of Devastanabagalu (survey Nos. 57 and 59 of Badagannur), the right to maintain a tank called Madaga seventy-five yards long, twenty-five yards broad, with a stone hill slope about one hundred and fifty yards north of cairn No. 80 and to take the drainage of the hills which the tank collects for the irrigation of the said survey numbers by means of a channel one yard ~~one~~ yard running south and quitting the reserve midway between cairns Nos. 80 and 81. Materials required for the repair of the tank and channel should be obtained from their respective beds and access to the tank and channel should be by the bed of the latter. The easement will be in force from June to end of October each year.

IX. On behalf of the pattadar or cultivator for the time being of Devastanabagalu (survey No. 59 of Badagannur) to maintain a channel three feet ~~three~~ feet coming from the Nerlampady tank and entering the reserve eighty-eight yards south-east of cairn No. 81 and joining the channel from Madaga tank (mentioned in VIII supra) fifty yards lower down, for the irrigation of the said survey number. Access to the channel will be by its bed. The easement will be in force from June to end of October each year.

X. On behalf of the cultivator or cultivators for the time being of Indaje (survey No. 4 of Nettanige), the right to maintain a dam ten feet long, three feet wide and three feet high and to lead off the water collected by the dam for the irrigation of the said survey number by means of a channel eighty yards long, one and a half foot wide and two feet deep which leaves the block seventy-five yards north of cairn No. 98. Materials for the repairs of the dam and channel should be taken from their respective beds and access to the dam will be by the bed of the channel. The easement will be in force from June to end of October each year.

XI. On behalf of the cultivator or cultivators for the time being of survey No. 40 of Nettanige, to enter the block for the purpose of clearing out the natural channel to a width of three feet for the purpose of irrigating the said survey number by a supply of water issuing from a natural spring. The length of the channel inside the block is about four hundred yards and access to the channel will be by way of the bed of the natural channel. The easement will be in force all round the year.

XII. On behalf of the cultivator or cultivators for the time being of survey No. 42 of Nettanige the right to maintain a channel one and a half foot wide for the irrigation of the first crop on the said survey number. The channel derives its supply from the jungle stream above Bellasah (S. No. 40 of Nettanige) and about fifty yards below Uriya (a level place containing a big mango tree) and after flowing southwards for about four hundred yards leaves the block one hundred and fifty yards south of cairn No. 131. Access to the channel will be along the side of the channel. This easement will be in force from June to December each year.

XIII. On behalf of the cultivator or cultivators for the time being of Kurudapadavu (survey No. 37 of Padre) the right to maintain a channel two feet broad and three feet deep which enters the block twenty-nine yards north-east of cairn No. 140, and after a course of two hundred and twenty-seven yards leaves the block one hundred and eleven yards north-west of cairn No. 139 for the irrigation of the said survey number. Access to the channel will be by way of the bed of the channel and materials for repair must be obtained from the bed of the channel. The easement will be in force all round the year.

B. The following easements are allowed to the public within the Reserve :-

I. Permission is accorded to the public to worship the Rakteshwari Bhuta twice a year in the enclosed area of twenty-five yards long and twenty yards broad which is situated one hundred yards north of the path from Periyal to Giliyal. No cooking is to be done at the spot as the ceremonies include the placing of a lamp before the Bhuta. This permission is subject to the condition that fire does not spread to the reserve and in case of fire occurring within fifty yards of the Bhutastana at out the time of the ceremonies are performed there, the permission will be ipso facto cancelled. Right of way will be by a path three feet wide for men only branching from Periyal-Giliyal path two hundred and eight yards west of cairn No. 18. The worship is conducted on any one day between 18th May and 12th June and next on any similar day between 13th December and 12th January.

II. Permission is accorded to the public to worship one day each year, i.e., 25th of Vrishabha (May-June) at the Guligana kahu seventy-five yards north of the point on the boundary of the block, fifty yards east-south-east of cairn No. 81. The ceremonies include the placing of a lighted lamp on the ground, but no food is cooked there. This permission is subject to the condition that no part of the block within fifty yards of the stone is burnt. The occurrence of fire will ipso facto cancel the permission. The path to the stone enters the block fifty yards east-south-east of cairn No. 81.

III. Permission is accorded to the public to worship on two days each year, i.e., Karthika Shudha padya (October-November) and 10th of Vrishabha (May-June) at the Rakteshwari Bhutastana near path from Kula to Arthikudul and to attend the devil dance "Kola" held there on one of those occasions. Notice must be given to the Forest Guard of the intention to hold the devil dance and his acknowledgments of receipt of the notices obtained at least one week before the performance. The ceremonies include the placing of a lighted lamp on the ground in front of the bhuta, but no food is cooked inside the block. The permission to worship at the Bhutastana is subject to the condition that no part of the block within fifty yards of the spot is burnt; the occurrence of such a fire ipso facto cancels the permission. Access to the Bhutastana is by a path twenty yards long, running north from the Kula-Arthikudul foot-path at a point two hundred and twenty yards from the entrance to the reserve near Kula.

IV. Permission is accorded to the public to worship on one day each year in the grove of the Hanavu Bhuta about one hundred yards north-north-east of cairn No. 103. The permission is subject to the condition that no part of the block within fifty yards of the grove is burnt, and the occurrence of such a fire will ipso facto cancel the permission to visit the grove. The ceremonies include the cooking of a fowl and waving of a lamp "Arthi." Access to the grove is by a foot-path thirty yards long entering the block one hundred yards north of cairn No. 103. The worship above referred to is conducted on the 8th day of Vrishabha corresponding to one day in May and June.

V. Permission is accorded to the public to worship twice a year, viz., Karthika Shudha padya (October-November) and 10th of Vrishabha (May-June) at the Rakteshwari Bhutastana situated one hundred yards north of the east corner of survey field No. 1/17 of Nettanige (Mulethadka). The ceremonies include the placing of a lighted lamp on the ground before the bhuta and the waving of a lamp "Arthi" but no food is cooked there. The permission is subject to the condition that no fire takes place within fifty yards of the Bhutastana. The occurrence of such a fire ipso facto cancels the permission to worship the Bhuta inside the block. Access to the Bhutastana will be by a path from Mulethadka.

VI. Permission is accorded to the public to worship at the Bhutastana called Guligana bana on three days during each year. The kana is sixty yards north of cairn No. 132 and five yards inside the Reserve boundary. No cooking takes place there, but the puja includes waving of lamp before the Bhuta "Arthi" and the placing of a lamp on the ground before the Bhuta. This permission is subject to the condition that no fire occurs in the reserve in the neighbourhood of the Bhutastana; and in case of fire occurring in the reserve within fifty yards of the Bhutastana about the time of puja being performed, this permission is, ipso facto cancelled for the future. Access to the kana will be by a path entering the block sixty yards north of cairn No. 132. The three days of worship are the 10th day of Vrishabha (May and June), Sona Sankranti day (August-September) and Karthika Shudha padya (October-November).

VII. Permission is accorded to the public to worship at the Swayambaguli once in 12 years (the next occasion on which the festival will be held will be in the year 1919). Access to the cave will be by a path 12 feet wide available for men only, running east-south-east from the cave for about three furlongs and joining the Giliyal-Indumale-Baje foot-path at the top of the hill. The cave is situated ninety yards south-west of cairn No. 21. For the purpose of making preparations for the festival right of access to the cave will commence three whole days before the festival and cease on the night on which it is held. For the construction of pandals, materials of other than reserved and classified species may be removed from the block within a radius of one hundred yards from cairn No. 21 (This permission does not authorise the removal of materials from the area outside the block but within one hundred yards of cairn No. 21.)

C. The following public rights of way are admitted within the reserve :-

1. Swriyambail-Periyal-Giliyal-Padumale foot-path, six feet wide, for men and cattle.—Enters the block thirty-four yards west of cairn No. 2, runs south-east for about three and a half furlongs and leaves the block one hundred and ten yards north of cairn No. 11 of Periyal Manangala enclosure No. 1; re-enters the block eighty-three
