A.—The following will be treated as an enclosure within the reserve:—

The grove eighty yards square with the Bhutastan inside it about fifty yards north-west of cairn No. 76.—The public will be permitted to worship at it; access to the enclosure will be by the foot-path from the Padumale Devastan to Kannadka, which it touches. The permission will be withdrawn if the worshippers by their neglect spread fire over the adjoining forest.

B.—The following water rights have been admitted inside the reserve:—

1. For the public to maintain a pond six yards square in the bed of a jungle stream about two furlongs north of the enclosure A. Access to it will be by a foot-path six feet wide for men and cattle, running north-west from the Bhutastan, for a distance of about two furlongs.

2. For the owner, for the time being, of survey No. 2 of Mudnur (Pulimaradka) to keep in repair a tank fifteen yards square on the top of the hill slope to the north of the said cultivation, and lying one hundred and ninety yards north north-west of cairn No. 15, collecting the hill drainage and irrigating the said cultivation by a channel two feet X two feet running straight south and quitting the reserve one hundred yards south-west of cairn No. 15. Materials for repairing the tank and channel should be obtained from their respective beds and access to them should be by the channel bed.

3. For the owner, for the time being, of survey Nos. 56 and 57 of Padvanur to keep in repair a pond six yards square situated in the bed of a jungle stream about two furlongs north of enclosure A for the irrigation of the said cultivation, and take its water down the bed of the stream clearing it of silt during hot season. Materials for the repair of the tank should be obtained from the bed of the stream and access to the tank should be by the bed of the stream.

Note.—This pond is identical with that referred to in item B-1 supra.

4. For the owner, for the time being, of survey No. 90 of Mudanur village to construct a dam two yards X two feet X two feet across a jungle stream on the hill slope to the east of the line between cairns Nos. 34 and 35 at a point about half a furlong east of cairn No. 35 for the irrigation of the said cultivation and divert the water collected by the dam by a channel two feet X two feet running south-west for one hundred and sixty yards and quitting the reserve midway between cairns Nos. 34 and 35. Materials for the dam should be obtained from the bed of the stream, and those for the repair of the channel from its own bed. Access to the dam and the channel should be by the bed of the latter.

5. For the owner, for the time being, of survey No. 58 of Nattanige Mudnur (Melmenal and Madyattu) to keep in repair a tank called Nekkarkaje (fifty yards square) which lies on the hill slope to the west of cairn No. 19 at a distance of two hundred yards from it and take its water for the said cultivation by a channel two feet X two feet running east for two hundred yards and quitting the reserve at cairn No. 19; also another tank five yards square about fifty yards west of cairn No. 19 and about three yards north of the abovementioned channel, from which the water is led into the aforesaid channel by a small channel two feet X two feet running south for three yards. Materials for the repairs of the tanks and the channels should be obtained from their respective beds and access to the tanks and the channels should be by the beds of the latter.

6. For the owner, for the time being, of survey Nos. 86, 85 and 89 to put up two dams across a jungle stream flowing down from the hill slope north of the above cultivation, one about two hundred yards north of cairn No. 32 and the other fifty yards north of the same cairn and to divert the water collected by the dams by two channels, one of which, viz., the one from the lower dam, runs south and quits the reserve at cairn No. 32 to irrigate survey No. 86, and the other, viz., the one from the upper dam runs south-west and quits the reserve midway between cairns Nos. 32 and 33 and irrigates survey No. 89. Materials for the dams should be obtained from the bed of the stream and those for the repairs of the channels from their own beds. Access to the dams and the channels should be by the beds of the latter.

7. For the owners for the time being, of survey No. 64 of Paduvanur (Kajemule cultivation) to put up a dam four yards X two feet X two feet across a jungle stream flowing down from the hill slope to the north-east of the said cultivation and divert the water collected by the dam for the irrigation of the said cultivation by a channel two feet X two feet running south for one hundred and twenty yards and quitting the reserve about seventy-five yards south-east of cairn No. 72 on the foot-path from Pulimaradka to Kajemule. Materials for the dam should be obtained from the bed of the stream and those for the repair of the channel should be obtained from its own bed. Access to the dam and the channel should be by the bed of the latter.

8. For the owner, for the time being, of survey No. 82 of Mudanur village to put up a dam two yards X two feet X two feet across a jungle stream one hundred and thirty-two yards north by west of cairn No. 31 and take its water for the irrigation of the cultivation by a channel two feet X two feet running south-east and quitting the reserve midway between cairns Nos. 30 and 31. Materials for the construction of the dam should be obtained from the bed of the stream and those for the repair of the channel from its own bed. Access to the dam and the channel will be by the bed of the latter.

9. For the owner, for the time being, of survey No. 61 of Nattanige Kasba to put up a dam six yards X two feet X two feet across a jungle stream about eighty yards north-east of cairn No. 36 and take its water for the irrigation of the said cultivation by a channel two feet X two feet running south-west for eighty yards and quitting the reserve ten yards south-east of the said cairn. Materials for the construction of the dam should be obtained from the bed of the stream and those for the repairs of the channel should be obtained from its own bed. Access to the dam and the channel should be by the bed of the latter.

10. For the owner, for the time being, of survey No. 61 of Nattanige Kasba.—Doddadka darkhast, to put up a dam across a jungle stream half a furlong east of cairn No. 35 and take its water for the irrigation of the said cultivation by a channel two feet X two feet running straight west for half a furlong and quitting the reserve four yards north of cairn No. 35. Materials for the construction of the dam should be obtained from the bed of the stream and those for the repair of the channel from its own bed. Access to the dam and the channel will be by the bed of the latter.

C. The following foot paths are allowed for men and cattle, to a width of six feet:—

I. Foot-path from Padumale Deestana to Kannadka.—Enters the block at cairn No. 6, runs in a southerly direction for about three and-a-half furlongs and leaves to the west of cairn No. 76 giving access to enclosure No. II on its way.

II. Foot-path from Guriadka darkhast to Kedumuli.—Enters the block at cairn No. 7, runs in a generally westerly direction for about half a mile leaving between cairns Nos. 77 and 78.

III. Foot-path from Pulimaradka to Kojemile.—Enters the reserve at cairn No. 16 and running westwards for about three and-a-quarter furlongs leaves between cairns Nos. 71 and 72.
